Important Notice:

The 21st session of the UN Committee of Experts on International Cooperation in Tax Matters welcomes wide participation of, and engagement by, observers to the extent practicable. Although the meetings are closed and not public, interested parties are therefore warmly invited to register as observers. The Committee nevertheless reserves the right to deny or limit participation by non-government representatives, as well as to have closed meetings for Committee Members during the course of the session. Live reporting, including by blogging, from the (virtual) Conference Room is not allowed.

Registration for the Committee session closes on 14 October 2020.
